

Looking South

The wooden building on the right is the site of the present Portland Memorial Hall.

The elms planted in 1890 are well established.

The small wooden shed on the left side of the dirt road was the St Helens Bakery.

Children have long since become grandparents and have peacefully gone to their rest.